

Add to Home Screen

Android setup guide — takes under a minute

1

Open the site in Chrome

Go to your Daily Task Log site in Chrome and log in as usual. Most Android phones come with Chrome as the default browser.

2

Look for an install prompt, or open the menu

Chrome sometimes shows an “Add Daily Task Log to Home screen” banner automatically. If not, tap the three-dot menu in the top-right corner.

3

Tap “Add to Home screen” or “Install app”

The exact wording depends on your Chrome version — either one does the same thing here.

4

Confirm the name

Chrome shows the Daily Task Log icon and lets you edit the name if you'd like. Tap “Add” (and then “Add to Home screen” again if asked to confirm).

5

Done — tap the icon to launch

The icon now sits on your home screen and in your app drawer like any other app. Tapping it opens Daily Task Log full-screen, without Chrome's address bar.

Worth knowing

- This works in Chrome, and in most other Android browsers (Samsung Internet, Firefox, Edge) with a similarly-named option — look for “Add to Home screen” in that browser's menu.
- The shortcut doesn't remember your login any differently than a normal browser tab — if you're logged out, opening the icon still takes you to the login screen.
